Family planning does not mean not having children. It means you have the right to choose how many children to have and when.

“The risks associated with unsafe abortion are among the main causes of maternal death, especially in young women. If the woman wishes to continue the pregnancy, in low-resource settings without safe delivery services, the risks of maternal mortality are also high, as are morbidities that are often permanent.”

Singh S, Wulf D, Hussain R, et al. Abortion Worldwide: A Decade of Uneven Progress. New York: Guttmacher Institute, 2009.

Universal access to reproductive health, including family planning was designated in the Millennium Development Goals by 2015.

A group of General Practitioners with special interest in Family Planning worked in collaboration with Wukro’s Hospital, three Primary Care Health Centres and a local Prison in Ethiopia to set up Family Planning training addressed to the general population and to Health professionals. Usage and fitting of contraception methods were explained and devices were supplied to these Health Care Centres.
